When online, connected products can generate data continuously and in real time.

Connected products store data on cloud servers. Devide Datapoint (DP) data is retained for 7 days by default and can be extended upon customer requests (requires purchasing extended storage services)

Access, share and erase Data

You can view, retrieve, and export your data in the App by following steps:

Go to the Me page in the App -> Tap the Settings icon in the top right corner -> Privacy Policy Management -> Device Data Export -> Select the device to export -> on the preview page, you can view the device data; to export, tap the export icon in the top right corner of the preview page and enter the email address to receive the exported data.

You can delete your data at any time by unbinding the device and selecting Delete Data.

Estimated data volume: Varies by device type, e.g., a smart plug or home appliance may generate only a few KB/day.

Transparency information for Service Providers

Nature of Data

Basic information about the smart device: device name, device ID, online status, activation time, firmware version, and upgrade information. Network configuration information: Wi-Fi information and location permissions, used solely for device network configuration and not uploaded to the cloud.

Device usage logs: sensor data and configuration commands sent from the App to the device. Different types of smart devices will report different functional data points.

Estimated data volume: Varies by device type, e.g., video uploads may be around 50 MB/day, while a smart plug may generate only a few KB/day.

Collection frequency: Typically real-time or event-triggered (e.g., when a smart plug is switched on or off).

Access and export: You can view or export data through the App interface or request data export via the privacy settings page.

Storage and retention: Device usage logs are retained for 7 days and then automatically deleted.

Device usage logs include configuration commands sent to the device via the App (i.e., service data) as well as sensor data reported by the device.

We process product and related service data solely for the purposes of contract performance, security, troubleshooting, product improvement (where applicable), and advertising (where applicable).

We share data with service providers acting as data processors for business purposes.

You can request the data for sharing with a third party:

One-time sharing: Users can export data through the App and manually provide it to the third party.

Continuous sharing: Users must submit a customer service ticket or send an email, and may withdraw the request at any time.
